								Meetup times
Note: intervals not isochronous								Interest group meetings and events for subsets of conference
								Concurrent scheduled activities and opportunity to "drop in" (WiMIR tables) and visit with colleagues
Participants can attend any two successive blocks to engage in all synchronous activities								Open virtual meeting rooms for spontaneous gatherings
Presenters attend one repeated block in order to present to all participants, attending 3 blocks in a day.
								Beyond this schedule, the conference slack will be open 24/7 for participants to interact directly and through the various channels to provided.
Blocks were scheduled to ensure:								Labs and teams will be able to make channels for themselves. Open channels can be set up on demand.
two blocks beginning within normal working hours (8:00-18:00) for registered participants.
three blocks beginning within normal waking hours (7:00-24:00) for registered presenters.
								Poster Sessions (same for Late breaking Demos, MIREX, and Industry Exhibits)
								8-12 concurrently presenting poster channels per 45 minute slot, with live audio/video chat
								Each poster presented in two slots for global visibility (#A and #B)
								Poster slack channels open throughout for asynchronous chat as well
								All Meetings and Concerts
								These conference-wide events happen twice in 24 hours (A and B)
								The first time is recorded live in Zoom and streamed out
								The second time rebroadcasts stream with live Q&A where appropriate
